SUGGESTED UNIT SHUTDOWN GUIDELINES

If your unit is to become vacant for any length of time, there are certain guidelines recommended to be followed to maintain the safety and mold-free environment of your unit and that of your building neighbors. If you have ever returned to your unit and found a mold and dampness take-over, you can appreciate the importance of this reminder!

After careful study and years of experience, the Board recommends adhering to the following checklist before you leave:

1. Change the filter in the AC handler.
2. Pour a cup of bleach in the condense pipe by the AC handler every 6 months.
3. Turn your thermostat to 78 degrees and the humidistat to 60.
4. Check your hot water for leaks and turn off the corresponding circuit breaker.
5. Clean the toilet bowls. Pour a cup of bleach in each one. Cover the bowl with plastic wrap to reduce evaporation from the bowl.
6. Pour a cup of bleach in each sink, bathtub and shower drain.
7. Shut off the water main valve for your unit.
8. Open closet doors and slightly open all drawers and cupboard doors to allow circulation and prevent mold.
9. Prop dishwasher open.
10. Remove all items from the doorway outside your unit. Doormats are a great place for dampness and mold growth.
11. Remove all items from open patio/lanai if they might be a problem in high winds
12. Our Board should have a key to your unit in case of emergencies. If you are gone for extended periods, it is suggested that you have a friend, or a commercial service check your unit periodically and notify the Villages Association who that person might be for emergency contact purposes.

EXTERIOR HURRICANE PREPARATION CHECK LIST

All objects, including bicycles, furniture, decorations, plants, planters and plant benches must be removed from any entryways, doorways, exposed balconies and lanais. Any objects remaining unattended will be removed and disposed of in the interest of safety.

HOW DO YOU LIVE WITH A MANGROVE?

Any time you move into a new neighborhood, you run into some quirky neighbors. In fact, if you are honest, some are just plain odd. Meet the Mangroves.

While there are over 50 different kinds of mangroves worldwide, three are your neighbors.

- The Red Mangrove lives on the water's edge with a prop root system, which is reddish brown in color. They may grow to a height of 30 feet and are nicknamed "the walking tree".
- The Black Mangrove lives at a slightly higher elevation with dark finger-like projections for its root system. They may grow to be 70 feet tall.
- The White Mangrove is further from the water and usually shows no visible root system. It is a shrub like tree with elliptical yellow green leaves.

The Mangroves are one of Florida's true natives.

- They obtain irrigation from the salt water to survive.
- They filter out pollutants and chemical elements to maintain water quality and clarity.
- They provide food for 75% of the game fish and 90% of the commercial fish.
- They are rookeries for pelicans, roseate spoonbills, cormorants, egrets, herons, and ospreys.
- They shelter snakes, spiders, sponges, anemones, oysters, mussels, starfish, and crabs.
- They help protect the land from waves, winds and flood damage.

Florida legislature passed the Mangrove Trimming and Preservation Act in 1996. Perico Bay Club was developed prior to this law. The state permit to trim the PBC mangroves was "grandfathered" in. The trimming must be done by a state licensed contractor and is carefully monitored.

We are all part of the Preservation Plan so a few rules apply.

- No plantings in or near the mangroves.
- Keep children from playing in the mangroves.
- No launching kayaks, canoes, rowboats, or other watercraft through the mangroves.
- No cutting or trimming of the mangroves by homeowners.

Enjoy the Mangroves as neighbors, they are very quiet. Mangrove management is a function of the Master Board.
